

FRIENDS OF THE PETRIE MUSEUM

FRIENDS OF THE PETRIE MUSEUM – MEMBERSHIP FORM 2025/2026

The large collection of ancient Egyptian antiquities in the Petrie Museum is derived chiefly from the excavations of W.M. Flinders Petrie, his colleagues, and successors. Its strength lies in the wealth of archaeological material exhibited in its excavated context to illustrate the development of Egyptian culture, technology, and daily life. Together with the type-collections it forms the finest teaching and research collection of its kind in any University, and one of the finest Egyptology collections in the world, recognised as being of international importance.

AN INVITATION

Join us to help further the work on the archaeological heritage of Egypt and the Sudan. The Friends of the Petrie Museum play a large role in raising funds towards the conservation, publication, and display of this outstanding collection. Your support will be an extremely valuable contribution which will enable the objects to be cared for, and learnt from, well into the future.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

- Quarterly digital mailings with opportunities to attend lectures, social events and special fund-raising events
- invitations to apply for museum study sessions with privileged access to objects
- Friends' newsletters (PMF Extras and PMF Collections) packed with information about the Museum, the Friends and current research
- an opportunity to apply to use UCL's Institute of Archaeology Library
- tours to places of Egyptological interest
- monthly lectures, live or zoom or hybrid depending on the circumstances
- knowing that your membership supports such an important and wonderful collection.
